Sketches of Little OLD NEW YORK By M. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Richard Harding Davis, who is some traveler himself, has said that if a person stands long enough in Times Square ultimately he would meet all his friends from everywhere. That is why Broadway is more than a street—it is a personality.

Making the great white way "white" offers some strange figures. It is the glare that brings every man, woman and child there someday—just like a blazing candle brings the moths. And the job of keeping Broadway a "white way" is a tremendous job.

Every night there are two men who start up and down the white way and work until the last light twinkles out. They look out for the flaws in the electric signs. Seven hundred thousand people walk up and down Broadway nightly, according to figures prepared by Louise Eberle, a writer.

Keeping the big electric signs going makes work for many. There was the lady of Herald square whose skirts flapped in the rain. One night the rain started to fall upward. It had to be remedied. Another night a huge sign began popping out one by one. It was learned that an intoxicated gentleman in a Broadway hotel was popping them out with an air gun.

The Rialto is much interested in the speech that Renold Wolf, dean of the banquet wits, is to make at the dinner to be given William A. Brady next week by the Friars. Mr. Wolf and Mr. Brady have not been sending Easter cards to each other for several years. Mr. Wolf is a foe of the Shuberts and the Shuberts and Brady are thick as peas in a pod. It is expected that the fur will fly but these be stirring war times and a few more bullets do not mean much.

Wallace Ham is out ahead of a show. The other day he landed in Detroit and needed the assistance of a typist. He found one in his hotel. "First," he said in his dashing manner as the young lady prepared to receive dictation "what's your name?"

"Bone," she replied.
"Mine's Ham."
"Go on now! You're a regular Broadway kisser, ain't you?" replied Miss Bone.

Victor d'Austremont Cartier is back from the French battlefields where he drove his own high-powered racing car for General Joffre. In everyday life Mr. Cartier is a dealer in precious stones at No. 712 Fifth avenue. He is back on a furlough tanned and toughened by his experiences.

Whisper it softly! Irvin Cobb is to treat the boards of vaudeville. The short story writer has been made such an offer that those on the inside say he cannot refuse.

When Cobb returned from Europe he went on the lecture platform and got so he could appear before an audience within his knees beating a tattoo. Now the only thing that worries him is his hands. He says he never realized he had such hands before. They seem to spread all over the stage and he cannot do a thing with them.

At his last lecture in a little town in Jersey it seems the villagers hardly knew who Cobb was and didn't applaud much. At the end of the lecture Cobb told the manager that he was going to blind Houdini along the next time he came.

"What for?"

"To take the handcuffs off those people so they can clap."

More war stuff: Tidings from France report that Edna Wallace Hopper in doing Red Cross work for the allies.

COULD NOT STAND ON FEET

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found Relief In Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich.—"I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink every few minutes, and before I did my dusting I would have to lie down. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it. It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong."—Mrs. ALONZO E. BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

Not Well Enough to Work.

In these words is hidden the tragedy of many a woman, housekeeper or wage earner who supports herself and is often helping to support a family, on meagre wages. Whether in house, office, factory, shop, store or kitchen, woman should remember that there is one tried and true remedy for the ills to which all women are prone, and that is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It promotes that vigor which makes work easy. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

NEWS EVENTS OF BRIDGEPORT

Correspondent Compiles Items of Interest about Folk of That Community.

BRIDGEPORT, Oct. 20.—The council has passed a curfew ordinance not excelled by that of any other town or city in the state. All persons under eighteen, according to its provisions, must be off the streets, alleys or public squares of the town by 8 o'clock from the first day of October until the first day of April and 9 o'clock during the remaining months unless able to render a satisfactory account of its violation or accompanied by parents or guardian. Not only is the measure receiving the unanimous praise of the mothers of the town but all good citizens are pleased. The council, that so willingly heard the public appeal for its protection of the boys and girls, will receive the loyal support of its constituency in the enforcement of the act through its executive officer.

STATE OF WEST VIRGINIA.
To the Sheriff of Harrison County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Charles W. Moore to appear before the Judge of our Circuit Court of Harrison County at the Clerk's office of our said Court, at rules to be held therein for said Court, on the first Monday in November next, to answer a bill in Chancery exhibited against him in our said Court by Edith G. Moore and have then there this writ.

Witness, I, Wade Coffman, Clerk of our said Court, at the court house of the said county, this 18th day of September, 1915, and in the 53rd year of the State.

I, WADE COFFMAN, Clerk.
Order of Publication.

STATE OF WEST VIRGINIA.
At Rules held in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court of Harrison County, on Monday, the 4th day of October, 1915, the following order was entered:

Edith G. Moore, vs. Charles W. Moore.

Object of Suit.

The object of this suit is to obtain an absolute divorce from the defendant on the ground of desertion for more than three years, and for general relief.

And it appearing from an affidavit filed in said cause that Charles W. Moore is a non-resident of this State, it is ordered that he do appear within one month from the date of the first publication of this order and do what is necessary to protect his interests herein.

Given under my hand this 4th day of October, 1915.

I, WADE COFFMAN, Clerk.

HOMER STROSNIDER, Counsel for Plaintiff.
